

Personal Financial Education 2012 Teacher Conference

A collaborative training featuring personal finance subject matter experts and educators

June 6–8, 2012

Conference will begin at 1:00 p.m. ET on June 6 and will conclude at 11:30 a.m. ET on June 8

Park Vista Hotel ~ Gatlinburg, Tennessee

Early Registration - $75 (Extended Through May 1, 2012)

Late Registration - $100 (Starting May 1, 2012) / Out of State - $150

Who Should Attend?

- Experienced & new teachers of personal finance
- Any secondary educator wanting to gain the employment requirement to teach the personal finance course
- Educators wanting to better understand personal finance topics
- Public school, private school, home school, pre-service (student) teachers, and community (financial institutions, non-profit) educators

~Continued on Reverse~

Why Should I Attend?

- It's been coming – now it's here! 2013 graduating seniors MUST have personal finance to graduate!
- Affordable professional development conference ($75 registration fee & $77/night hotel!)
- Personal finance is a constantly changing field of information
- Vacation opportunity – bring the family along & have a fun get away
- Enjoy the Smoky Mountains – and maybe even see a black bear!

What Can I Expect?

- Subject matter experts and educators sharing their knowledge
- Concurrent sessions featuring personal finance curriculum, content, research, and more
- Roundtables featuring best practices, concepts, and strategies
- Basic and advanced sessions – always new sessions every year!
- Exhibitors from various personal finance organizations
- Networking with other personal finance educators
- Great door prizes – including three $100 gas gift cards!

Comments From Previous Conference Attendees

Here are a few comments about the conference from previous participants:

“This is the best conference I have been to in my 35 years of teaching.”

“Excellent conference – probably the best I’ve attended in seventeen years of teaching.”

“I’m on Personal Finance overload! Great job!”

“The conference was great! This evaluation is the highest I have ever given!”

“This is way better than any other educational conference I’ve been to in over fifteen years.”

To register, contact Jackie Morgan, Tennessee Jump$tart Conference Co-Chair, at jackie.morgan@atl.frb.org or 615.251.7239.

For more information, visit www.tnjumpstart.org

Brought to you by Tennessee Jump$tart

A coalition of businesses, government entities and education organizations that have joined together to improve the personal financial literacy of Tennessee's youth